LAWYERS IMPEDING U.S. CRIMINAL LAW ATTACKED BY TAFT

Failure to Administer It Stirring the Country, He Tells Institute.

REPORTS HIGH COURT NEARLY UP TO DATE

Legal Marriage Principles Are 18-14-15-sports. Stated to Session for Its Adoption.

Lawyers who seek to prevent the "efective operation of criminal law" were criticized by Chief Justice William Howard Taft before the American Law institute at the Mayflower hotel yesterday. Asserting that he did not wan to be "invidious," the Chief Justice

"We love our profession," he said,

"No lover of his country can have gone through the last three or four years without having been stirred deep in his heart over the failure of the administration of our criminal law," the Chief Justice said. But, he added, he was not a pessimist, because of the deep feeling that has evidenced itself all through the country among the peolatures, and among the people at large of our profession whose chief function matter of legislation has bee in the past to interfere with the efoperation of the criminal law by special provisions to save the case."

For Protecting Forgotten Man. "If there is not some body or some ganization to look after the Forgotten Man-that is, society at large-we re not going to have an improvement in the administration of the criminal aw as we ought to have." It is the "Forgotten Man" which the nstitute is trying to help by gathering together the greatest array of legal talent in the country and re-stating the ommon law wherever there is amiguity or conflict. The association is neaded by former Attorney General George W. Wickersham. It does not seek to have its restatements incororated into statutory law, but the act that the institute is so representative of the legal profession, embracing gives its conclusions a considerable reight of authority.

Conflict in the marriage, legitimacy, tion, guardianship and corporation laws of the various States were disyesterday and the indication were that the restatement of corpora tion laws as presented by the reporte would be materially changed before acpepted by the institute.

Supreme Court Nearly Up to Date. The work of the United States Supreme Court has been considerably facilitated by Congress, especially by its act of February 13, the Chief Justice told the institute, but just how far this act will go to place the court abreast of its docket remains to be de termined. There has been some delay he pointed out, in putting it into operation. New Building Will Be Back ground for Famed Octagon House Madisons Occupied.

EXPLOITING OF LAND IN CITY DEPRECATED

Resolution Says It Must Be Stopped if Beautification Is to Be Realized.

The institute, which is meeting here for its sixtieth annual convention, adopted a resolution at last night's anead with plans for the proposed new building.

The Octagon house, which was used as the executive mansion by President Madison and Dolly Madison after the burning of the White House by the British in 1814, is now owned and used as a headquarters by the American Institute of Architects. However, it is too small, and there is a great need for a new building to house a library, offices and convention hall. The famous old octagon-shaped house itself will not be disturbed, the new building being erected so as to serve as a background for it.

The new building will represent all that is best in the art of architecture in America, and for that reason Milton B. Medary, president of the institute, has called on all members to offer suggestions in regard to its design and construction.

A majority of memorials erected by Americans in Europe prior to the creation of the American battle monuments commission are now in a more or less unsightly condition and need attention, the annual report of the commission made public vesterday revealed, and organizations responsible are urged to repair them.

The condition is caused by disintegration of materials used in their construction, mechanical injuries, growth of weeds and vegetation about them, and accumulation of rubbish in their vicinity.

Seven students of the Knights of Columbus evening school, 1314 Massachusetts avenue northwest, will compete in the first annual Noonan public discussion contest in the school tonight. The prize is $50 in gold, given annually by John J. Noonan.

The contestants will compete individually and will discuss the question, "Resolved, that the District of Columbia should have representative govern-

"As the appearance of all such memorials, regardless of who erected them, reflects upon the people of the United States, the commission believes it would be unfortunate if the conditions referred to should continue," the report states.

"It is hoped, therefore, that all American organizations which have erected monuments of any merit in Europe will take steps, if they have not already done so, to insure that their memorials are maintained in an attractive condition."

The commission announced the guest.

"Resolved, that the District of Columbia should have representative government," and are free to choose whichever side of the question appeals to them. Students who are to compete are John R. The commission announced the question of maintenance of existing American memorials has been serjously considered a number of times and that it favors government care for such of them as are in its opinion worthy of preservation. To secure such maintenance, however, new legislation will be required from Congress, and the commission is not disposed to ask for it at this time without further consideration after the details of its project have been definitely decided on.

The commission some time ago expressed itself as being unwilling to approve erection of any future memorials of this class unless their maintenance in proper condition is assured in advance. (By the Associated Press.)

Naval hydrographers decided yesterday that if the missing French aviators, volugesser and Coli, are still alive they probably are somewhere in Labrador, lonely refugees in the densely wooded and mountainous wilderness.

Their decision was based on the assumption that there was no motor failure on the part of the airplane White Bird, that the wind velocity during the flight took the aviators to the north of Newfoundiand and that the moth of Newfoundiand and that the mothine's altimeter, because of changed conditions, did not cause them to crash against icebergs or strike land obstructions.

A report given to Secretary Wilbur

A report given to Secretary Wilbur late yesterday emphasized that the winds which prevailed in the north Atlantic at the time of the flight, on the whole, were the most favorable of any recorded in recent years.

On the other hand, however, it was the belief of the Naval Secretary's advisers that if the White Bird failed to reach the Labrador coast there was little, if any, chance that it still was afloat. The presumed course, plotted on little, if any, chance that it still was aficat. The presumed course, plotted on the basis of official information given by the naval attache in Paris and known weather elements, would have taken the filers beyond Newfoundland's most northern boundaries and into a region where ice floes are numerous and the land for the most part mountainous, densely wooded and virtually uninhabited.

The report caused officials to give up much of the hope they had previously entertained that Nungesser and Coli had taken a more southerly course, one that would have led them across Newfoundland and away from the more dangerous regions to the north. It had the effect also of strengthening the belief that any search of waters along the New England coast was more futile than had been expected.

The navy's report was prepared by Lieut Earl H. Kincaid, a meteorologist engaged in static and atmospheric research work, and Lieut Logan C. Ramsey, in charge of aviation chart construction for the navy.

The two experts, after pointing out various condition which might have caused the Frenchmen to swing to the north of their intended route, said it was possible that they encountered to ecoast of Labrador about Sunday midnight or shortly thereafter.

"In the darkness," the report added, "they probably were not expecting to sight land so early and might have passed over the coast line and proceeded inland without knowing it.

Several Possible Results.

"In this case, quite a number of possibilities are apparent. First, they may have continued on until daylight and discovered themselves inland over an unknown country. Second, they may have been forced down by stress of weather inland. Third, they may have crashed into the side of a mountain.

"Their best chance of survival, the one to which, knowing the courage and resourcefulness of Nungesser and Coli, we cling as our last faint hope, is that Nungesser made a safe landing in one of the many lakes which dot the interior of Labrador. If this be true, weeks or even months may pass before they are able to make their way to civiliza-

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

London, May 12.—The fashionable world of London, including Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, members of the British cabinet, princes, princesses, peers, famous hostesses, soldiers and saliors, attended the brilliant wedding in St. Margaret's church, Westminster, of Miss Mary Ashley, one of Great Britain's wealthlest heiresses and the sister of Lady Louise Mountbatten, to Capt. Alex Stratford Cunningham Reid. a conservative member of parliament. The wedding was one of the outstanding social events of the London season. Twenty policemen kept back the crowds storming the famous church. With contributions still pouring in indicating by the generous response that the nation realizes the crisis that exists, the total collections of the Red Cross for Mississippi flood relief yesterday reached $10,501,185, half a million in excess of the goal established.

Meanwhile local collections climbed to $116,334, or $26,334 in excess of the double quota of $90,000. Contributions are still coming in, while money collected by organized methods still is to be reported.

Long a Strained Feeling.

Although there have been no open manifestations in recent weeks of unsatisfactory relations between Great Britain and soviet Russia, there has long been a strained feeling because of alleged communist propaganda in Great Britain.

And Mrs. Brown, appreaching her sixtleth birthday, lacks both physical and financial resources with which to fight.

On Monday, Schneider's attorney, Waldemar F. Timme, will file a petition asking that the uncle be appointed Lorraine's guardian. Unless Edgar F. The rug was an addition to the furnishings of the household. Christine had bought it that the baby, Harvey Junior, might have a warm nest in which to lie after his bath.

"Blessings on thee, little man," his young father had remarked when he saw the rug. "Now, I'll have a place to smoke in comfort. But your fond mother would never have thought to order it for me."

all. PUZZLED.

The man in love does not "intend to write"—he writes! It may seem hard to think of life without him, but better that than to plan and hope, when such plans and hopes are far from the man's mind. Understand, I am not saying that this man never will love you—but merely that at present he does not. Men are never subtle when in love. They find courage to tell their story in act as well as word, and the man who is content to see a girl once a month, without even letters to bridge the space between is in a most serene state of mind—and that is not the state of mind of the undeclared lover. So try for serenity yourself. You quite state of mind—and that is not the state of mind of the undeclared lover. So try for screnity yourself. You quite evidently possess personality and magnetism—or you would not have had four proposals. Why not seek diversion away from this very screne and safe friend of 54? I suggest this not as a means of intensifying his interest—although his interest badly needs a little intensifying—but because few are the men who can never be forgotten, however, gloriously we endow them from the richness of our own imaginations.

Loving courage we see them as heroes only waiting a chance to be done in bronze; loving truth we see them as above deception; and we have on our hands before we are through, a very superman Adonis—and Hercules rolled into one, and we weep at the thought that this marvelous combination should never be a part of our personal estate.

Mr. Work's Pointer On Auction Bridge

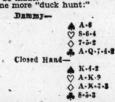

THE pointer for today is:

IT TAKES KEEN DISCERNMENT TO RECOGNIZE THE VARIED "DUCK" SITUATIONS AT THE BRIDGE TABLE.

Yesterday I gave the cards of Dummy and Declarer in a certain No Trump hand, explained the way in which the first trick should be played; and I asked my readers to try to work out how the hand should be developed. I now give the entire hand.

Diamonds and three Hearts. The odds are against having these suits break perfectly, but they may; therefore the possibility that they will should be neglected.
Yesterday's answer slip should read:
On trick 2, North should lead the Three of Diamonds and South should play the Queen of Diamonds. On trick 3, South should lead the Two of Hearts and North should play the Four of Hearts.
The other possible play would be to lead the Ace of Hearts from Closed Hand to trick 3, and duck on trick 4; but the duck on trick 3 is probably more deceptive. By the aid of this duck and the fortunate position of the adverse Hearts and Diamonds, game can be made.
One more "duck hunt:"

WHAT IS CORRECT?

WHAT IS CORRECT?

The question of what is "correct" in customs of different sorts comes to me again and again. I wonder if I can explain how very little it has to do with reality more than half the time. You see, the customs which rule people living in one sort of way have nothing to do with those of people living in another. You must always consider your circumstances and surroundings first.

Suppose a princess is living in a two or three room apartment and waiting upon herself. Suppose she wishes to ask some friends to dine with her. She would never write and ask how to conduct a formal dinner, how to announce guests, how to show them into the dining room (if she had a dining room), how to serve six courses when the hostess did the cooking. She would know that no formality was possible under the circumstances. The dinner would have to be as simple and as easily served as possible and as easily served as possible and as easily served as possible and a dining room (if she had a dining room), how to serve six courses when the hostess did the cooking. She would know that no formality was possible under the circumstances. The dinner would have to be as simple and as easily served as possible and as easily served as possible under the circumstances such as the princess would have to be as simple and as easily served as possible under the circumstances should he wear the other combination. cold when it lays its hands on the very young baby. However skillful as a mouth breather he may come to be in later life, while an infant he breathes through his mose and knows no other technique. The high art of snoring, of which some men are so proud, is an acquired characteristic or quality. A baby knows nothing about it because he breathes through his nose and in no other way. Therefore, when a baby gets a nose cold he is most unhappy. The only air route he knows anything about will not let air pass.

In addition to the discomfort, there is the harm and danger in other ways. Pneumonia and bronchitis are highly fatal to babies. Now that the diarrheas are becoming of small importance, bronchitis and pneumonia are taking first place as causes of disaster for babies, and, finally, there are the dangers to the ears, tonsils and adenoids.

McAuliffe thinks that one reason babies take cold is because they are bathed in a room which is too cold. Before they come on earth the baby is accustomed to warm surroundings. After the head has been bathed and partially dried there are some minutes during which that region may become quite cool if the air of the room is not warm enough.

quite cool if the air of the room is not warm enough.

Dr. McAuliffe says: "Most bables sneeze just after being bathed. This they do because of the irritation from tollet powders, dusting powders and such. A dusting powder sneeze does not mean that a cold is about to follow. Nevertheless, it is not a good idea to let a baby get a noseful of dusting powder."

idea to let a baby get a noserul or dusting powder."

Dr. McAuliffe thinks babies should be trained to alsep on the stomach. When a baby sleeps on his back the secretions of his nose drain away from the opening of the tube which leads to the ears. On the contrary, when he lies on his stomach the drainage is in the other direction. A baby should lie on his stomach, especially when he has a bad cold.

A baby with a bad cold is very un-comfortable because he does not know how to get his breath. Dr. McAuliffe suggests that the parent use a medi-cine dropper to remove the pus ma-terial. A good, smooth medicine drop-per with a smooth, rounded point should be used. He advises injecting in each hostil. It is to the membrane and to protect it, and it does no harm.

Incidentally, he discusses the uselessness of ear drops. It is possible that a little old or glycerin placed in the ear canal and resting on the drum may give that membrane a little support, but except for that he says ear drops can not possibly do any good.

DAUGHTER VS CONSTIPATED.

Mrs. J. P. B. writes: I wish you would advise me as to my daughter's health. She is 17 years of age, a junior in high school. She is always constipated. She only succeeds in keeping her bowels open with pills and liquid purgatives. I do not think that is wise, as it makes her dependent entirely on medicines. She is a Scout and she follows the health rules used by the Girl Scouts; sleeps with windows open, drinks six glasses of water daily, walks a mile and takes other exercise in the open air, 'eats fruits and vegetables, sleeps nine hours.

Can you tell me what to try next?

REPLY.

REPLY.

If she follows these rules to the full she should not have constipation.

She must not take purgatives.

She should eat bran as a cereal and in breads.

One good plan is: Drink a full glass of 2 per cent salt solution on awakening and before leaving the bed. Lie quietly for haif an hour to an hour. Go to toilet on arising or soon after breakfast.

Mitzi is explaining that she's going on a French boat because she thinks she may be able to improve her French by the time she arrives so she can tell a taxi to take her to her hotel, at any rate. Mitzi's dinner dress is of chiffon, too, and trimmed with two flat flowers. Polly's dinner dress is of flesh colored chiffon spangled all over with tiny rhinestone beads. Work Believes Help Might Be Extended, but Mellon Feels Otherwise.

By NORMAN W. BAXTER.

By NORMAN W. BAXTER.

The problems of farm relief transferred to the oil fields were added yesterday to the worries of the Coolidge administration. Leading producers of the country, brought sharp against the age-oid law of supply and demand by overproduction in the midcontinent fields, have appealed to the government for some form of assistance.

The statutes of the nation and all of the arguments that were used by Persident Coolidge in vetoing the Mc-Nary-Haugen bill apply, many officials believe, with equal force in the present situation, and added to these embarrassments is the fact that every user of gasoline—both rural and urban—is a potential opponent of governmental favors extended to the oil industry.

ernmental favors extended to the oil industry.

Developments of the day, following a meeting Wednesday of the oil interests of the country in New York, included a difference of opinion between two members of the President's cabinet as to what might be done.

Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior and member of the Federal oil conservation board, indicated, following a conference with Walter C. Tagle, president of the Standard Oil Co., and W. S. Farish, former president of the American Petroleum institute, that some way might be found for an agreement limiting production without bringing down upon the producers penalties under the antitrust law.

one is to be found, must come through regulation by the States.

What has taken place in the oil fields during the last five or six months is not a new condition, for there have been cycles of overproduction before, but the present flow of petroleum from the ground is greater in volume than ever before, due principally to the devance of the proposed production before a large holder of oil through the court decisions in the Doheny case, has been unable to exchange its crude output for refined oil on a profitable basis and has as yet been unable to obtain any benefit from the Elk Hills deposits. The benefit from the Elk Hills deposits as Standard Oil, have storage facilities of such immensity that they are, able in however, do nothing but throw their oil or a falling market, and even the oil or a falling market, and even the which oil is now coming out of the ground.

The proposal of the oil men, which does not jibse with the antitrust laws, as for voluntary agreements limiting production until the stocks of oil have reached more normal levels. The same proposal was made at the last period of overproduction and that time no less an authority than Charles El Hughes, appearing for the Petroleum institute, argued that it would be legal.

An agreement to limit production would serve, too, to fix the price so that the solution which the oil mint production would serve, too, to fix the price so that the controversy has sprung up from the controversy has sprung up from the controversy has sprung up from the contract of the probability of the controversy has sprung up from the controversy has sprung up from the contract of the probabilities of the controversy has sprung up from the contract of the probability of the controversy has sprung up from the controversy has sprung up from the contract of the probability of the controversy has sprung up from the controversy has sprung up from ment which would be legal.

An agreement to limit production would serve, too, to fix the price so that the solution which the oil men now seem to favor would, if carried out, bring about almost the identical situation which was subject to so much criticism when the McNary-Haugen bill was up in Congress.

Despite the gravity with which the oil industry regards the present situation, some of its members have their doubts about any limiting agreement, should such a course be found possible, for fear that it would lead to the renewal of a demand for governmental regulation of the oil industry as a whole. New Regulations Decided On. The controversy has sprung up from what first appeared to be a trivial matter. The Department of Labor here, in response to suggestions from union labor leaders in Detroit, Buffalo and other American cities on the border other American otties on the border, decided to issue new regulations governing the case of Canadians who habitually cross and recross the border in pursuit of employment in American offices, factories and shops. As several thousand of these Canadians have jobs which are coveted by members of the American labor unions in Detroit, for example, and as these Canadians are not in the good graces of the labor unions, the idea was conceived of interpreting the American immigration laws in such manner as to deprive them as a whole.

There is already some sentiment in Congress, among those who would na-tionalize the waterpower of the coun-try, for Federal control of oil. Both the cil men and members of the admin-istration think that afriendly hand to the oil industry might lead to a coali-tion between the farm bloc and the governmental regulation advocates laws in such manner as to deprive them and their farmes of their employment.

It was decided at the Labor Department to put new regulations into effection June 1 next, differentiating between native-born Canadians and naturalized Canadians or Canadians born in Great Britain or other countries. The plan is to subject these foreign-born Canadians to the restrictions which apply to the so-called quota countries of their birth and prevent them from crossing the border until their numbers could be reached on the quota system of the country of their birth. Other restrictions, such as a head tax of $8 and a visa fee of $10. are included of $8 and a visa fee of $10. are included of $8 and a visa fee of $10, are included in the plan aimed at the foreign-born anadian workmen. Many Foreign Born in Canada.

Many Foreign Born in Canada.

As a substantial percentage of the residents of Canada are foreign-born, this attempt to discriminate against this class has aroused instant and wide-spread resentment in Canada. The Canadian newspapers have already characterized the American plan as an unfriendly act and a reflection on all foreign-born Canadians. The charge is also made in the Canadian press that the American immigration laws have never been given the interpretation which it is now proposed to place upon them and that the United States is permitting itself to be made an instrument of a few union labor men in Detroit in pursuance of a plan which is entirely out of harmony with the friendly relations of the two governments.

Officials here would not discuss the Officials here would not discuss the matter after yesterday's conference exmatter after yesterday's conference except to say that another conference would be held in a few days. Among the suggestions understood to have been made were that the new regulations be held in abeyance until Secretary of Labor Davis can make a full study of the situation. Canadian representatives are confident that if representatives of the State Department here and the Labor Department investigate the question there will be no doubt as to the outcome.

The immigration laws of the United are almost certain to occur at irregular intervals.

Neither government officials nor members of the oil industry are able to calculate the length of the period of overproduction, since it is dependent entirely upon the flow in the pools which has brought about the present crisis. #### HELPING HAITI,

Senator Oddie, of Nevada, has returned from a visit to Haiti, during which he made a thorough inspection of conditions under the American occupation. He has issued a statement which emphatically controverts the sensational allegations made by Haitian politicians and often repeated by Senator King, of Utah.

The condition of Haiti prior to American occupation was discouraging from every aspect. The people were diseased, half starved, and trampled upon by bandits and revolutionary marauders. There were no roads, and farmers had no inducement to plant crops, which were seized as soon as matured. Sanitation was unknown, and the ordinary conveniences of civilization were lacking. Life and property were under constant menace. The violation of the French legation brought about a climax which threatened to end in occupation of the country by a European power. The United States was then compelled to step in, for the sake of maintaining the Monroe doctrine as well as to befriend Haiti.

Senator Oddie states that since American occupation took place in 1915 the country has been regenerated. Finances have been reorganized, resources developed, roads built, hospitals and schools established, agriculture stimulated, live stock improved, disease diminished, and the public health and order largely restored. The native constabulary, with only a few American officers, maintains peace and order. Natives are trained and placed in official positions as rapidly as possible. They are becoming engineers, physicians, surgeons, nurses, carpenters, builders, and experts in other activities. Mr. Oddie

Were we to withdraw our forces now, revolution, bloodshed, oppression and a return to the former conditions of bar-barism and misery would quickly follow, and all the work we have accomplished in twelve years would be undone. We can not and we will not allow such a calamity to come. Our treaty and humanitarian obligations will not permit us to neglect our duty in this manner.

The charge of imperialism, brought against the United States in its relations with Haiti, is circulated by Haitian politicians and agitators who are prevented from exploiting the country The Americans who take up these charges and repeat them are throwing mud at their own flag. No more unselfish work was ever done by a nation than that which the United States is doing in behalf of the Haitian people. The Haitians themselves are the best witnesses to the benefits that they are receiving. They have joined enthusiastically in the work of rehabilitation, secure for the first time in their lives in the possession of homes, and if assisted a while longer will have passed the stage where they would be in danger of a lapse into old conditions. They are learning the art of selfgovernment, as well as the art of living

In due time the United States will withdraw from Haiti and restore to the people their full sovereignty. An arrangement similar to the Platt amendment will doubtless be made. authorizing the United States to intervene in case of revolution or other mortal danger. With that safeguard the people of Haiti will, in a comparatively short time, be capable of governing themselves and developing their

TRAFFIC ON BOULEVARDS.

Residents in upper Sixteenth street have asked again that a police ban be placed against trucks and solid-tired vehicles using that thoroughfare, basing their arguments on the residential character of the street, the noise of the trucks and the vibrations caused by their operation which are said to shake buildings and cause plaster to fall from the ceilings of residences. Those opposed to the measure object to forcing the traffic to other streets and increasing the congestion therein, and advance the counter-argument that vehicles large and heavy enough to shake buildings on Sixteenth street ought not to be tolerated on any street. Heavily loaded trucks driven at high speeds undoubtedly cause street vibrations that are transmitted to residences. Damage to the structures may result, damage to the road surface itself is inevitable. At lower speeds, however, vibration is not produced and. therefore, regulations should be issued controlling both the weight and speed of heavy vehicles throughout the city.

Upper Sixteenth street should be freed from heavy, slow-moving traffic. As far north as Florida avenue this important thoroughfare is reserved for the exclusive use of penumatically tired vehicles, the exclusion of others being based on the fact that the street is a boulevard to accommodate high-speed traffic. Above Florida avenue the same condition obtains; the street is light controlled, and further out the 30-mile speed limit is permitted. Heavy vehicles hamper the free flow of high-speed traffic and, if they are to be barred at all, it should be for this reason.

Solid-tired trucks should be barred from all high-speed boulevards whenever it is possible. When the boulevard is not paralleled by other streets a regulation should be drawn up to mediately beside the curb, for only by m possible an even and swift-flowing traffic can oulevards accommodate the volume already at hand and the greater volume promised for the future.

THE PROBLEM OF SURPLUS.

The American producers of petroleum are facing over iduction and are planning to supps to control the output. American manufacturers are producing more than the markets can consume, and in many lines plans for a curtailment are under way. The farmers are overproducing and are anxious to devise some way to dispose of the surplus Is the United States producing more than it can dispose of profitably in the domestic and foreign markets combined? Is overproduction possible, or is the trouble underconsumption?

Perhaps the time has arrived when overproduction, which is usually the result of excessive competition, may face the antitrust laws. Not a few students of economics and many business men contend that combinations to prevent the waste of overproduction are necessary. Manufacturers, farmers and oil producers are trying to evolve combinations to restrict output, in order to prevent destructive competition, waste, and higher prices.

Antitrust laws are enacted to protect the public against monopolies and high prices. In operation they encourage waste and destructive competition. Too much of any commodity is as uneconomic and disastrous as too little. Combinations, or "good trusts." may be the only method available to prevent the waste of wealth due to overproduction.

Theoretically, there can be no such thing a overproduction or oversupply for the needs of the consuming public. Practically it is seen that production outstrips consumption, and will continue to do so until population increases and the consuming power of the people is enhanced. If there is a surplus of food it may be wasted, although many people may starve or go underfed. If there is a surplus of clothing it is likely to be wasted or salvaged at a loss, while many suffer.

Control of output to meet this new situation must be within the circle of producers, and not within the realm of government activity. But the government may be obliged to abandon the policy of checking combinations to prevent monopoly, and adopt a policy of permitting combinations to curtail output.

The Supreme Court long since adopted the "rule of reason" in the interpretation of antitrust legislation and antitrust executive ac-Perhaps the time has come when this "rule of reason" may be the only sane and safe course for legislatures and courts to adopt.

THE CHURCH AND POLITICS.

The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, bishop of Washington, struck a note in his annual convention address that should meet with widespread commendation when he urged that the church keep out of politics and added that it 'stultifies itself where it attempts through an organized lobby to influence legislation." Bishop Freeman also deplored the tendency to convert the Christian pulpit into a rostrum for the discussion of political themes. "The Episcopal Church deals with principles rather than policies." he said, "and men and women will follow better the leadership of a man who refuses to become entangled in controversies and contentions that belong to the forum and the halls of legislation."

Other religious leaders would do well to follow Bishop Freeman's example in this regard. What is needed from the Christian church is the daily exposition by precept and example of the old-fashioned religion and a setting of high moral standards, not only for the young but for all the people. That is a gigantic task in itself, enough to occupy all the time and energy of all the churches.

GIN IN THE PEERAGE.

The death of George Godolphin Osborne, Duke of Leeds, has revived interest in the enterprise out of which he built an enormous fortune. Upon the death of his father he inherited with the title some 25,000 acres of land in Yorkshire, which was covered to a large extent by a growth of juniper bushes. The land was of little value for agricultural purposes, but the duke found plenty of use for the berries on the bushes.

Real gin is distilled from juniper berries. 'Hollands" is another name for a variety of the intoxicant more in favor with the ladies of the "Sary Gamp and Betsy Prigg" type than it is among the givers of cocktail parties on the other side of the Atlantic.

But it was not so much in connection with gin of the "Holland" type that the Duke of Leeds won fame. He had an excellent military and civic record, was an enthusiastic yachtsman, and a great entertainer in his London house. In this country he was best known as the distiller of that brand of gin called "Gordon," no longer distilled for American trade, from the fruit of the bushes which cover his vast holdings in Yorkshire, but, since 1920, produced in every city in this country by mixture of grain alcohol, water and "oil of

The Osborne family name has been in the British peerage since the days of Henry IV, and in spite of the passing of the eleventh Duke of Leeds the distillery will continue operations and will go on turning out Gordon and Hollands in the same old way, thereby adding to the income of the next Duke of Leeds, and incidentally to the gayety of some nations, though its product is barred from

THE FRENCH BIRTH BATE.

There is a persistent but erroneous popular belief that there is a striking decline in the birth rate of France. This belief has been time and again disproved. It is once more very effectively disproved by the publication of the preliminary statistics of births, marriages and deaths for the year 1926. The number of births in 1913, the year before the war, was 790,355, or 19.1 per 1,000; in 1926 the number was 766,226, or 18.8 per 1,000, surely not a very striking discrepancy. 1925, it is true, there was a decrease, but in 1922, 1923 and 1924 there was an increase. The conclusion to be drawn is, therefore, that

What is really wrong is the comparatively high infant death rate. Taking the death rate at all ages, and bearing in mind the inc and decrease of the population, one finds that here has been scarcely any notable movement ince the war. In view of this fact, it is sadlening to read that the number of children who died before attaining the age of 1 year was 74, 698 in 1926, as compared with 68,367 in 1925. In twenty departments the infant death rate was lower than in the previous year, in two it was stationary, but in 68 it rose. Still, modern sanitation and hygiene are doing something to reduce infant mortality, for whereas the rate was 112 per 1,000 in 1913, it was down to 85 per 1,000 in 1924 and to 89 per 1,000 in

The total population of France is given as 40,745,000 in 1926. This is less than that computed for the same area in 1913, which was 41,470,000, but it is greater than in 1920. when the figure was 39,300,000. As a matter of fact, there has been a slight but steady rise each-year since the war ceased to affect the numbers.

The marriage figures have, however, gone down considerably since 1920, although they show an increase over 1913. In 1913 there were 312 036 marriages, or a rate of 15.1 per 1,000 inhabitants; in 1920 there were 623,859, or 31.8 per 1,000, the large increase being obviously due to postponement caused by the war: but in 1926 the number of marriages was 346,126, or 17 per 1,000, the lowest figure and the lowest average shown since the war.

There are some discouraging facts about these figures, but, by and large, they prove that France is working out her own salvation.

STANDARDS OF MEASURE.

Resolutions passed by the second Pan-American standardization conference calling for campaign to further the adoption of the metric system throughout this country and Latin America are both timely and wise. It is generally admitted that the metric system is superior to any other method of measuring weights, volumes and lengths. Other systems have survived only because of tradition and because of the natural tendency to refuse to cast aside anything so firmly and fundamentally entrenched.

The basic unit of the metric system is the meter, the unit of length, which is equivalent to the distance between the defining lines of the international prototype meter at the international bureau of weights and measures when this standard is at the temperature of melting ice, or zero centigrade. From this the unit of capacity, the liter and of weight, the gram, are derived. All other units are the decimal subdivisions or multiples of these and all are simply related. For to all practical purposes 1 cubic decimeter equals 1 liter and 1 liter of water weighs 1 kilogram.

Contrast this system with the measures in use in the United States, where to ascertain weight are used troy pounds, avoirdupois pounds, kilograms, short tons, long tons and metric tons, all absolutely unrelated. For measuring space the American uses the inch, link, rod, perch, chain, furlong, the hand, the point, the span and several varying types of miles.

World commerce has become so important that it would be of great value to have a standard system of weights and measures in general use. Quite aside from this, however, is the benefit to be derived at home. Educating the public up to the point of adoption of a new system will be a long process, but it is to be hoped that those interested in the matter will not lose heart before their task has been com-

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

Advocates of government ownership of public utilities and commercial enterprises generally have something to think over in the news from Manila, where Governor General Wood has announced his intention to sell to the highest bidders all the holdings of the government in the commercial enterprises of the islands. The nominal value of these holdings approaches $50,000,000, but if one-tenth of that sum is realized from the sale the United States will be fortunate.

Already Gen. Wood has handed over to the Filipinos the entire control of the Manila railroad, in which the government owns a majority of stock. This was accomplished by giving the natives a majority of the board of directors and by placing the management

Because of bad crop conditions and heavy losses in the conduct of the business in two sugar centrals located respectively in Occidental and Oriental Negros provinces, loans made by native banks are at present unre coverable. Gen. Wood has an offer for these centrals from New York interests, and will probably dispose of the government's holdings to the New Yorkers.

Other enterprises in which the government is interested and which will be sold, or perhaps given away by the general, are Cebu Portland Cement Co., capitalized at 5,000,000 pesos, which holds many thousands of acres of agricultural and timber lands in the province of Neuva Ecita, and the National Coal Co., which had a capital of 8,000,000

This action of the governor general is based on a recent ruling of the insular supreme court, which held that he has full power over government-controlled institutions. Gen. Wood is quoted as expressing the belief that the economic atmosphere of the islands will be materially cleared by the new policy and that there will be a revival of business, which in turn will offset the millions of losses sustained through governmental operation and ownership of the railroads and manufacturing

The abandonment of government control of business in the Philippines brings to an end another attempt on the part of Federal authority to engage in commerce, which is, and should be by right, the function of private firms, individuals and corporations.

Paris is making special preparations for ecciving and entertaining the American Legion convention this summer. Among other conveniences, the police authorities are providing a special jail for the exclusive occupancy of the legionnaires. It will be centrally located, so that the inmates may be readily accessible to their friends. "All the comforts of home" is hospitality, even in jails.

There is a welcome lull in murder news, due to the fact that the best exponents of the system are well on the road to punishment.

The heart of America is bigger than the biggest flood since the days of Noah.

Proof of Tolerance

By ROBERT QUILLEN-MAN writes a book to indict and shame preachers. Before a word

A of comment has been written or spoken, you know that clergymen viously announced? will say the book is untrue and blasphemous. You know that agnostics and cynics will read it gleefully and praise the author.

These agnostics and cynics, now commonly grouped as "young intel lectuals," are without exception advocates of tolerance. Almost without exception they deride, denounce and villify certain preachers and re formers, and the thing that arouses their fury is the belief that these preachers and reformers are intolerant.

To the casual reader their point seems well taken; but by every bit ter word they utter, they strengthen the indictment against themselves. The "young intellectuals" love liberty, as every proper man must; and they affirm the truth that the measure of a man's tolerance is the meas ure of his civilization. Some of them-the more ardent lovers of liberty-assert that to qualify freedom at all is to destroy it, and that freedom is not genuine unless it gives every man the right to be wrong.

Let us grant as much. Now assume that all the preachers and the nillions who cooperate with them are in the wrong! Is it not their privilege in a free land?

Is it evidence of tolerance to sneer and jeer at those whose convic tions do not harmonize with ours?

It will be answered that religion, throughout all history, has nursed ntolerance and thrived upon it. Does one crime excuse another? If Jones, who delights in religion.

would suppress his neighbor who disbelieves, does the neighbor prove himself more tolerant by endeavoring to suppress Jones in retaliation? You will find few tolerant men on either side of any controversy-few even tolerant enough to discuss tolerance without loss of poise and temper.

If you have intelligence, you will have convictions—and defend them and had it replanted in a choice section with calm reason when necessary.

But if you have tolerance, you will remember that men are a product almost daily visits to it to watch its of heredity and environment; you will forgive their weaknesses and growth, and distinguished visitors stupidity; you will be patient and kind; you will grant them freedom people are willing to pay for. ### A Capricious Need -Steadily Served

The hot-weather appetite of your family is capricious. Neither grown-up nor child craves his liquid refreshment at a set time. The desire for it may come at any -morning, noon, afternoon, evening, or even the wee small hours. Hence the ice to cool it must be at hand—plenty of it.

But however capricious the appetite, the service must be regular, steady, unfailing. There is no disappointment in American Service—your American ice is delivered at the same hour daily; never a lack of ice to preserve your perishable foods; never a lack of ice to cool your healthful drinks.

Statement on Negotiations Drawn From Harahan in Cross-Examination.

TALK HELD IMPEDIMENT

of the Erie and Pere Marquette systems,
A bare statement as to the Virginian negotiations was drawn from W. J. Harahan, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio, during prolonged cross-examination by Henry W. Anderson, counsel for minority Chesapeake & Ohio, stock-holders opposing the merger project. Herbert Fitzpatrick, counsel for the Chesapeake & Ohio, intervened when Mr. Anderson demanded that the witness tell of any steps taken by his rallroad to buy the Virginian. Public discussion of the project would tend to embarrass and hamper the negotiations, Mr. Fitzpatrick insisted, though Mr. Anderson disclaimed any such purpose.

It developed, however, that the Chesapeake & Ohio had undertaken to negotiate for the Virginian after the commission had refused to allow the Nortolik & Western to acquire that system.

Various phases of the protracted series of meetings in which Chesapeake & Ohio officials arranged to purchase the controlling interest in the Erle and Pere Marquette were dealt with during preceding cross-examination. O. P. preceding cross-examination. O. P. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, it was brought out, in addition to agreeing to sell the Chesapeake & Chio large blocks of Erie and Pere Marquette stock, attended meetings in which opposing minority stockholders participated and at which an endeavor was made to eliminate objections to the merger program.

Washington to Norfolk, Va.—Generall: Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, superintendent of police, yesterday recommended to the commissioners that they pay, out of their contingent fund, fees for X-ray examinations of policemen ordered by the board of police and fire surgeons. These examinations were formerly paid out of the police and firemen's relief fund, but Comptroller General John R. McCarl forbade continuance of that practice. Maj. Hesse said that policemen should not be required to pay for the examinations, since they do not voluntarily undergo them, but have no choice when ordered to do so.

FEW ISOLATED SHARES ARE BID UP SPIRITEDLY

General Course of Stocks Is Downward; Nickel Plate Gains Sharply.

STEELS APPEAR "TIRED"

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, May 12.—The general course of the stock exchange prices was downward today, many of the active shares losing from 1 to 3½ points, a movement only partially office by the sharp bidding up of a few lisolated shares. Both new lows and new highs for the year were established. Net gains extended to 9 points, but they were not numerous. On the whole the day's movement hardly could be considered as anything more than the irregular oscillation which has now prevailed for about ten days and which has made the market's real trend difficult to determine.

Call money rates opened and ruled at 4½ per cent throughout the day. The fallure of the oil company executives in conference here to make greater progress in arriving at a basis for cooperation, proved a rather depressing influence, after an early display of strength among the petroleum shares. Considerable interest was taken in railroad shares, especially issues affected by the proposed Nickel Plate grouping. Niekel Plate stock was twirled from a low of 197½ to a new high for all time at 208, then snapped back to close at 204, a net gain of 8% Chesspeake & Ohio fluctuated between 174½ and 177, finally closing at 175½, up 1½ net. Erie made substantial gains in the early trading, but later sold off for a fractional net loss. Many of the carrier stocks, both standard and speculative, made quite impressive gains in the forenoon, but sold off in the afternoon to land in the minus column.

The motor shares churned about irregularly, in anticipation of dividend in the afternoon to land in the minus column.

The motor shares churned about irregularly, in anticipation of dividend action by the directors of General Motors after the close of the market. At this meeting there was declared an extra cash dividend at $2 a share on the outstanding common stock in addition to the regular quarterly distribution of $2 op the common and the usual preferred and debenture distributions. The automobile leader finished the day fractionally net higher, but Hudson, the most active stock of the day, fluctuated widely and finally closed 2 points net to the bad. The turnover in the last named stock totaled 101,600 shares. Other members of the group were quite active in broad movement, but finally closed near to their opening prices.

The steel stocks acted as if tired, group were quite active in broad movement, but finally closed near to their opening prices.

The steel stocks acted as if tired, moving sluggishly and closing about where they left off yesterday.

Some of the bright spots in the day's business from the buil standpoint included the further advance of Union Bag & Paper for a new high at 71½, and the scoring of a net gain of 4½ points a new high for Diamond Match at 133, up 5 points net; an advance of 4 points net by Case Threshing to a record top at 190; the sale of a small block of Hocking Valley stock at a record price of 245, 9 points net above the last previous quotation; another high record established by Laclede Gas at 235, a net gain of 6 points, and net gains in Texas Guif Sulphur, Freeport-Texas, Fleischmann, Bayuk Cigars, Lorillard, Porto Rico-American Tobacco, Montana Power, Corn Products, Christie Brown, American Linseed, and a few others.

co, Montana Power, Corn Froducts, Christie Brown, American Linseed, and a few others.

Unusual activity broke out in the Erie stocks in the forencon. The first preferred touched a new high level. Strength in these issues was accompanied by rumors of early dividend action. Further information on the Chesapeake Corporation plan gave a fillip to Nickel Plate shares. It is now stated that holders of Nickel Plate will get 1.7 shares in the new Chesapeake Corporation for each share of Nickel Plate held, Nickel Plate stockholders will, of course, get nothing that they did not already have, but they have learned that they had more than they thought they did. The 345,000 shares of C. & O. stock held by Nickel Plate is much more than it was commonly supposed the road held.

It scarcely can be said that the Van Sweringen brothers are letting grass between the rails of their various railroad lines. During periods of rest from their labors in convincing the Interstate Commerce Commission of the advantages of the Chesapeake & Ohio merger plan, they are working on their stockholding segregation schemes and on acquisition of more railroads. The latest is the negotiation for the Virginian.

CURB MARKET REVIEW.

New York, May 12 (By the Associated Press).—Heavy selling for both accounts imparted a reactionary tone to today's curb market, atthough a few isolated strong spots developed in various sections of the list. Trading showed a marked failing off in volume.

Oil shares held fairly steady on expectations that negotiations of the list. Trading showed in progress would lead to a curtailment of crude production. ### BOND PRICES MOVE OFF: UTILITIES ISSUES HEAVY

New Chesapeake Corporation 5s Again Feature Trading; Foreign Group Irregular.

FEDERAL LIST IS MIXED

New York, May 12 (By the Associated Press).—Bond prices on the whole shaded lower in today's market despite various indications that the present era of easy money may be expected to continue indefinitely. Maintenance of the 4 per cent rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank late today occasioned no surprise, as expectations of a reduction had been practically abandoned.

The new Chasasseks Carponalian occasioned no surprise, as expectations of a reduction had been practically abandoned.

The new Chesapeake Corporation as again stood out as the main feature of the day's trading, more than $1,500,000 worth changing hands around 2 points above the offering price of 94. This constituted nearly an eighth of the entire volume of sales.

Reports that efforts to affect an agreement on the unification of the New York transit systems had reached a deadlock resulted in free offerings of local traction mortgages. Interborough as were particularly heavy. There was a fair demand for North American Edison 5s, which appeared in the list for the 1st time. Public utilities generally the heavy.

Erie D 4s displayed further buoyancy as a rather brisk demand developed, moving up more than 2 points to 111%, but later losing half the gain. Chicago, 5st. Louis & New Orleans as went up nearly 3 points to a new high record.

Foreign issues were irregular, German General Electric 6½s, with warrants, gaining sharply, while Rhinelbe Union 7s, also with warrants, yielding to profit taking.

Mixed price movements occurred in profit taking.

Mixed price movements occurred in the United States government list, with fourth Liberty 4½ s displaying the most activity.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, May 12 (By A. P.).—Wheat took an upward slant today owing largely to assertions that spring seeding in Canada is three weeks later than normal. Besides, domestic winter wheat crop advices were disquieting. Wheat closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to % cent higher: corn, % cent off to % cent advance, and provisions unchanged to 40 cents down. Best prices for wheat today were obtainable in afternoon, but efforts to realize profits led to some reaction at the last. In addition to word from a Winnipeg statistician that the Canadian prairie provinces are three weeks behind normal in seeding and that decreased acreage is a probable consequence, late demand here was stimulated by messages from field observers. Telling of a less favorable crop outlook Southwest, notably in parts of Texas. Oklahoma and Kansas.

Forecasts of generally fair weather both sides of the Canadian boundary indicating improved conditions for seeding gave some advantage to wheat bears in the fore part of the day, but were offset later by reports of rain in some districts. Moreover, crop comment from the Southwest included especially mention of hessian fly infesting most of the fields in Fawnea and Barton counties, Kans., and also told of much damage by hall, rain and water between Enid and Poncacity, Okla. According to some dispatches, hessian fly will take a heavy toll in Oklahoma and Kansas. On the other hand, North American export sales today were small.

Aggressive buying carried corn higher, but profit taking sales brought about a setback, with better weather for fieldwork a factor. Oats were responsive to investment buying, and July oats touched the highest point yet this season.

Provisions sagged on account of packer's selling of lard and because of lower quotations on hogs.

During the company's last fiscal year $8.50 a share was earned on the no par value common stock. In 1925 per share earnings were at the rate of $54.13. ### Officials Acquitted

Pittsburgh, May 12 (By A. P.).—Roland A. McCrady, president of the gefunct Brotherhood Savings & Trust Co., Charles A. Knapp, a bond salesman, and three other defendants were acquitted of charges of conspiracy to defraud today for their connection with the bond deal which wrecked the bank. The others acquitted were John L. Nelson and William J. Kelly, officers of the bank, and Frank T. Redman, a broker. Knapp, central figure in the deal for the purchase of Liberty bonds at bargain prices, had previously pleaded guilty to larceny and was sentenced to prison. Knapp disappeared after McGrady gave him $320,000 to close the deal, but he was later arrested and most of the money recovered.

"If you were a gentleman or even a manager, of which you are neither," Wilson said to Mr. Mack, "you would not let that hoodium act that way." Cobb had just compared Wilson to a small, wild animal, habitat North America, famous, if not positively notorious, for its fragrance, giving the party of the second part all the better of the comparison.

"If you were a gentleman or even a manager, of which you are neither," Wilson said to Mr. Mack, "you would not let that hoodium act that way." Cobb had just compared Wilson to a small, wild animal, habitat North party of the second part all the better of the comparison.

The unfortunate Wilson had been re-leased from the American league for one reason or another, Cobb and Tris Speaker insisting that he was a bush league umpire, if any, and Wilson in-sisting that the authority of an um-pire in the American league must al-ways be subordinate to the interests of the box office.

But Wilson said, on meeting the player again, the umpire would receive personal abuse and there would be nothing for him to do but take it or resign, because if he kept on reporting a vaulable athlete, the athlete would (CONTINUED ON PAGE 15, COLUMN 5.)

Crowds Entering City by All Means of Conveyance.

COUISVILLE, Ky., May 12 (By A. P.).
Fourteen certain starters and haif a dozen "probables" appear on the list tonight, twelve hours before the owners send the names of their hopefuls through the entry box for the fitty-third Kentucky Derby Saturday.

Three owners expect to start two horses each in the Derby, while the others will hold singletons in the bidding for the $50,000 added purse and the glory of winning a Kentucky Derby.

Eight Easterners and six Westerners are counted on now to make their bids, and two or three others from each section probably will be entered.

E. R. Bradley, master of Idlehour Farm stable, is expected to name Boo, Bewithus and Buddy Bauer, but one of the latter two probably will be scratched. H. P. Whitney and J. E. Widener will "shoot" with two each. The unofficial probable field follows:

Is Bored by Derby Chicago, May 12.—Gov. William J

Chicago, May 12.—Gov. William J. Fields, of Kentucky, who is here as the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Kentucky Society of Chicago is "bored to extinction" everywhere he goes with questions about racing. Kentucky has other things besides the derby to boast about, Gov. Fields said.
"I am a farmer a Kentuckian

Washingtons post. B

"I am a farmer, a Kentuckian and, therefore a lover of horses," sald Gov. Fields, "but I will be too busy with State business Saturday to attend the derby. There is a small crowd in our State which con-trols the horse race betting for a big profit. They try to run every-thing else in the State as a subordinate issue. I have not permitted this crowd to do this."

EAST NAMES GRIDIRON CZAR

Langford Will Decide Officials for Feature College Games.

race, Yale and Dattmouth Schedules for 1927 and 1928, appeared today as a brand-new "wrinkle" in the intercollegiate grid pastime.

The new "ruler" is William S. Langford, of New York, secretary of the rules committee and one of the most prominent football officials in the country.

prominent football officials in the country.

Extension of the move to other colleges is expected Saturday night, when representatives of Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Princeton, Brown, Cornell, Army, Navy, Pennsylvania and Columbia will meet at the Yale club here to discuss the problem of obtaining competent handlers of the whistles.

Choosing of a single power to name officials and prevent the possibility of referees and umpires tempering their work to please coaches who give them regular assignments for big games, was sponsored by Tad Jones, head coach at Yale. The custom in the past has been for rival coaches to select their own officials.

Under the new plan, Langford will have complete supervision over officials in the games of Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth, making his position similar, in many respects, to that of Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Western "Big Ten" conference. Authorities at the three institutions hope in this way to provide a background for the sport entirely free from the taint of favoritism.

Vance's Arm and Bat Beats Cincinnati, 6-3

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 12 (By A. P.).—
Dazzy Vance was an all-round star here today as the Brooklyn Robbins made it two straight over Cincinnati by 6 to 3.
Vance fanned five batters, limited the Reds to four hits and led the Brooklyn attack with three singles and a double in four trips to the plate.

The last Brooklyn run came in the eighth inning and was a clean steal of home by Carey.

Four Survive A Round in One Stroke Chevy Chase Tourney

Voigt, Pitt, Stevinson and Shorey in Golf Semifinals.

Many Matches One-Sided; J. P. Gilmore Wins on 19th.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

THE survivors in the championship flight of the Chevy Chase Goif club tournament, as the results of the first and second rounds of match play yesterday, are Harry G. Pitt (Manor), paired against George J. Voigt (Bannockburn) in the upper bracket and Miller B. Stevinson (Columbia) and John. C. Shorey (Argyle), who are opponents in the lower half. Pitt and Voigt met last spring in the semifinals of the tournament of the Congressional Country club, when Pitt won. Stevinson defeated Shorey last week in the Washington club tournament.

Many of the best-known golfers in the District were eliminated yesterday, including A. L. Houghton (Manor), runner-up at the Town and Country club and winner of the Washington club event; Guy M. Standifer (Columbia) and Walter R. Tuckerman (Chewy Chase), both former District amateur champions; Frank K. Roesch, the Washington club -champion; Page Hufty, winner last year of the North and South championship at Pinehurst, and Maj. E. L. Naiden, the army golf champion. Some of these players still are struggling through the consolation flight.

Voigt had no difficulty in reaching the semifinals, defeating Standifer, 6 and 5, and Hufty, 4 and 3, while Pitt defeated Roesch in the morning round and won on the eighteenth green from William J. Cox. when he ran down a long, semistymied putt for a birdie 3.

Shorey came through with victories over Forrest Thompson (Argyle) and R. M. Gray (Toronto); but Stevinson. after disposing of A. McCook Dunlop (Chevy Chase) in the forenoon, had a nip-and-tuck battle with Tuckerman in the afternoon, the match being carriel to the home green.

Stevinson was 1 up at the turn, but the match was squared on the four-teenth green. The players were still all even at the eighteenth tee, although Tuckerman missed a short putt on the sixteenth green which would have given him a win, but the final hole was won by Stevinson in a par 4 after Tuck-

Stevinson in a par 4 after Tuck-nan had missed both his drive and erman had missed both his drive and his second shot.

The feature of the day's play was the one-sided character of a vast majority of the victories. Of the 4B matches played, only four were decided on the home green and only four went to the nineteenth hole.

Of the latter the most interesting, perhaps, was the struggle between George P. James and E. L. Bono, both members of the Columbia club.

Although James was 3 up with only four holes to play, he began to hit trees, explore ditches and find traps, so that the match was soon squared, ending on the extra hole when James won by virtue of a single putt.

5th Race Spill Is Fatal to Rider

Single Foot, Canter Run One, Two in $6,000 Event.

Grierson Wins at 19-1 in Third Race on Program.

Special to The Washington Post.

Pimelico Race Track, May 12.—
Jockey Monte Edwards, 17-yeareld rider, of Wallace, Idaho, was fatally injured 1 na fall in the fifth race of the program today, and died soon after being taken to the South Baltimore General hospital. The accident marred the racing today, which saw the Griffith entery of Singlefoot the Rosedale stable, which is trained by W. A. Carter, had the mount on Palaiseau, a French horse, which fell body was badly crushed and his skull was fractured.

Raymond Peternell, the Jockey who piloted A. Henry Morris' Corn Spirit,

Eleven malden horses that never had won a race ran in the fifth event, which was at a mile and 70 yards. Edwards was away forwardly and was in about sixth position and on the outside when the accident occurred.

Singlefoot, ridden by L. Schaefer, beat canter a length and a half in the feature, then came Senator Norris, another neck away and a half length in front of Murzim. Canter ran a remarkable race. When the barrier was sprung it found him left at the post and in the run down the back stretch he looked hopelessly out of it. Erickson did not hurry him any and it was not until straightened out in the home stretch that Canter began closing on the leaders.

In the final furlong he came from behind with a sensational burst of speed that landed him in front of all but his stable companion. The Heathen

They showed a lot of speed in the early stages, doing the quarter in 0:22 1-5, and the half mile in 0:47. The winner ran the 6 furlongs and in company with Canter worked out the mile in 1:41 2-5. The net value of the stake to the winner was $5,910.

The Bell Farm stable's Grierson, given a hustling ride by Jockey Bulcroft, provided an upset in the third race when it won by a head over Kakee, the favorite. Grierson rewarded its backers at better than 19 to 1.

The race was anybody's from the start to finish, with first one horse and then the other in front. A furlong from the finish it appeared that Kakee had a lock and key on the honors, having worked its way to the front after trailing the field for half the distance. However, Grierson came on the outside, displayed some keen speed under punishment, and passed the favorite in the last stride.

Bourassa rode Cayuga, the E. T. Whitney gelding, to victory in the fourth event, a 5-furlong dash for 2-year-olds. Bourassa rated Cayuga behind the leaders, moved up on the far turn and on taking command entering the stretch won easily. Toanna, which set all the early pace, finished a length and a half behind with Blue Rose third.

Boy Bob led all the way to annex the second race in which seven 2-year-old maidens and fillies competed over a 4½-furlong route. Boyish Bob, the control from No. 1 post position and field on gamely at the finish to table of a chellenge by Teo. white

COLLYER'S COMMENT SPORT OF KINGS ARKING time.

Things are rather quiet over at Churchill Downs with the Derby candidates inactive and awaiting the bugle call Saturday afternoon. The debutante stakes serves as the chief attraction and fifteen high-class fillies are carded to line up at the hearier.

Here is where your Uncle Bertram is going to slam's long shot over the plate. It is none other than MISS FIRE. She will meet with plenty of opposition, but that only makes the price that much longer. Here is the place to purchase a three-way card and have something to wager on your derby favorite.

SARATOGA MAJE has been entered in two races out Pimlico way. In the event that he starts in the second race, one should not hesitate to hurry over to the favorite corner store and lay it on the line, right on the old beezer. Should the MAJE go in the sixth race, however, he will not have such an easy time, as LOUNGER is real fit now and should show him the shortest way home.

Out at Aurora the boys who keep close cases on the cards send the happy chatter that Terry Drugan and Frankle Lake are going to set in the works on SANOLA in the "Bagaboo" handicap. This event is well named and I'm going to string along with the West Siders. OSMAND is improving, and he remains my choice for the derby. Nuff sed.

Leaves Racing May 31

Montreal. May 12 (By A. P.).—Commander J. K. L. Ross, of Montreal, for years one of the foremost turfmen represented on the tracks of Canada and the United States, today announced he will retire from racing May 31, He will sell the remainder of his thoroughbreds, seventeen in number, on that date at Thorneliffe park, Toronto.

Business reasons are understood to have prompted Commander Ross' decision. He declined to say whether his retirement would be permanent, adding, "I don't know myself about that." Sir Barton, now in the stud at Audley farm, Berryville, Va., was the most conspicuous of the thoroughbreds that carried the Ross silks on American tracks. Sir Barton won the Preakness stakes, the Kentucky derby and the Belmont stakes in 1919, marking the only time a 3-year-old ever captured the three classics. In 1920 Sir Barton lost to the American superhorse, Man o' War, in a $75,000 match race at Windsor. Ontario.

Billy Kelly and Cudgel also brought fame to the Ross stable. | THIRD RACE_Purse, $1,000; 2-year-olds; 4\% furlougs. | 105 | 8 *Billy McCarney,114 | 3 Miss Drapeau | .105 | 8 *Billy McCarney,114 | 3 Miss Drapeau | .109 | 9 Hesitation | .100 | 4 *Vowed Veng'nee,1210 *Fair Lotta | .90 | 5 *Snowfal | .100 | 11 Fegry Brown | .112 | 5 *Snowfal | .100 | 11 Fegry Brown | .112 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100 | .100

JUNIOR NINES Washington Cueists LEADING THE LEAGUES PRIME FOR LEAGUE

Auths to Defend Title in Capital City Circuit.

A City league senior District championship was forecast last night when seven leading teams of that division gathered at the Jewish Community center for their first meeting of the season. The winner of the senior class will play the Petworth league victors for the city title and any doubt as to the ability of the Capital City clubs to compete with the suburban league was erased.

Five of the seven clubs are well known in sandlot ranks. The Auths, G.W.U. Pyramid Nine Defeats Faculty, 24-9 Lewis' slants in the opening innings and continuing the bombardment on two succeeding faculty pitchers, the Pyramid Honor Society of George Washington university defeated the faculty team in their annual baseball game yesterday, 24 to 9. The game was played on the Ellipse diamond, "Prexy" Lewis weathered the first frame fairly well, but was sent to the showers in the second when the Honor Men garnered mine runs off his delivery. He was succeeded by Prof. Tellima. Prof. Alden was the final faculty pitcher.

Prof. Alden was the final faculty pitcher.

The Honor Men, with Athey and Tolson alternating in the box, and Hottel receiving, sent the Pedagogues down in short order, yielding but three runs until the sixth inning.

In the event that a larger number of clubs seek entrance, the league will function in two sections.

The unlimited class meeting, originally booked for tonight, has been postponed until Monday night and will be held at the Jewish Community center, starting at 8 octoor. This caused Mr. Mack great anguish, because without these ball players for three days he lost both customers and ball games. So he complained and Mr. Johnson told him somewhat the same thing that Frank Wilson told him last spring. Mr. Mack is now officially requested to supervise Ty Cobb's manners toward the umpires.

The matter will never be provable, but it is a fact, devertheless, that the umpires henceforth will be much less tolerant of temperamental eruptions by Cobb and Speaker than they were in the past. Though judicial by training, the umpires are human, and in some cases red-headed, and they feel that cases red-headed, and they feel that Cobb and Speaker have been reduced to a common level with all the other ball players in the league, wielding no special influence and commanding no

In the fierce politics of the American league all umpires are loyal Johnson men, deriving their jobs from him and looking to him for support. Wilson says Johnson used to require his um-pires to go easy with Cobb and Speaker, but the others, such as Ormsby, Pants Rowland and Billy Evans insist that no umpire, calling them as he sees them and conducting himself with fair dignity, has ever been let down by the old man. They do not call him that, however. You never hear an American league umpire in any company speak of Ban Johnson except as Mr. Johnson.

their form is correct while getting the bail away.

The theory is that by bending their right knee the pitchers are forced to swing toward the plate while the ball is leaving their hand. This, it is claimed, will give them better control, while the swing should add not only speed to their peg, but also will put a dip to the ball.

George Murray and "Lefty" Bob Burke also are somewhat "stiff-backed" when out there on the mound, and if the idea works out in the cases of Crowder and Had-ley, the same experiments will be tried with the view of adding to their effectiveness.

though the Washington leader admitted after the session that considerable times was spent trying to figure out a system whereby one of the members of the team would occasionally catch a Texas leaguer.

Entirely too many of this type of blows have gone for hits against the Nats in recent games. In fact, one off Barrett's bat went as a double in the sixth inning yesterday for what would have been the third out. Then followed a walk and Ward's double, which gave the Sox victory. At Coliseum Tonight

The Washington City Duckpin assoon a drive clearing his head.

With ball players being notably superstitious, both teams are looking for anything to happen in tomorrow's "Friday, the 13th," game. This being the case, the two teams should start off about even.

Charlie Barnabe, a young southpaw from Shreveport, is expected to do the flinging for the White Sox, with either Garland Braxton or George Murray likely to take the hill for Washington, although Manager Harris tonight was unable to even guess whom he might call on.

Bib Falk made one of the longest Bib Falk made one of the longest singles on record in the first inning of today's game, this being due to some fancy fleiding by Sam Rice Two were on at the time and the ball missed going into the right field stands by inches, Sam taking it on the rebound.

Bobbie Burke's case shows the uncertainty of baseball. Several expensive purchases have been returned to the minors by the Nats, yet the young southpaw, a draftee, of whom little was expected, is making good with a capital "G." Pilot Harris is so pleased with the 20-year-older's prospects that he stated this morning that he "wouldn't trade him for anything." Fans need not be surprised to see Bob starting games shortly.

The newly organized Hornet Midgets want games, especially with the Mon-trose and Hadley teams. Call West 945 between 7 and 9 o'clock.

What is Cuba Famous For?

Fine tobaccos, of course! And only the finest of Havana tobaccos go into the fillers of Admiration Cigars.

Naturally, such quality demands hand workmanship, and therefore, every Admiration Cigar is made by hand—the fillers hand shaped; the wrappers hand rolled; the colors hand matched, by experts.

That's why the hand-made Admiration Cigar is worth twice the price of any machine-made cigaryet they cost no more. Try onetoday!

This week radio has for the first time.

so far as known, been used by an author to collect data for a book. Treadwell Cleveland is engaged in writing a history of the nurses training school of Orange Memorial hospital of Orange, N. J., and seeks to include the names of all living graduates together with their addresses.

As radio seemed to be the only practical way of locating the graduates rapidly, WOR in Newark, N. J., was prevailed upon to issue a call for graduates to send in their names and addresses as well as those of their school-mates.

A wild mailard duck "got" KOA at Denver recently, but didn't appreciate the quality of the broadcasting. Every spring an inspection of serial wires is necessary at the atation to locate any possible weaknesses caused by the weight of the ice during the winter.

When Robert Owen, engineer in charge of technical operations, reached charge of technical operations, reached the top of the 180-foot tower, he found the duck caught in the wires and struggling frantically to escape. Owen bent further out over the dizzy void to loose the bird, but spurred on by fright, it freed itself, and winged away without so much as a "thank you."

HOWARD GLEE CLUB DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

University Musicians Give an Excellent Program at Rankin Chapel.

The Howard University Glee club, directed by Roy Wilfred Tibbs, was heard in recital last night in the Rankin chapel by a large and enthusiastic audience of music lovers. The program, made up of 25 numbers, included readings by Aiston Burleigh and a solo for plano, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," (Schultz-Ewler), permitting an exhibition of execution, tone and shading by Harry G. Smith that was exceptional.

The club excelled in its rendition of tional.

The club excelled in its rendition of
"Ave Maria," by Vittoria, and "Moorish Serenade," by Protheroe. "Ma Little Banjo," by Dichmont, and "Just You," soloist, brought encores. The unusual vivacity and cadence of "Firefiles," a Russian folk song, proved especially pleasing. The program closed with the rendition of the spirituals, "Jacob's

Ladder," "Deep River," and "Were You
There?"

Among the high spots of the evening's presentations was the arioso, "Vesti la Gubba" (Leoncavallo), as sung by Barrington Guy. Lester Dorsey also scored in two numbers, "Keep Your Hand to the Plow," and "He Never Said a Mumbling Word."

Of Radio Tower Paint

The radio tower at the Washington navy yard is to be painted white and black in line with a Navy Department experiment to verify results of visibility tests made recently. The lower lilf feet and alternate panels from this level to the top. 300 feet, will be painted black, and the remaining panels white. Recent visibility tests indicated that a greater contrast exists between white and black than any other two common colors, and it is believed that radio towers, mooring masts and other structures painted in alternate white and black bands, will become more readily discernible to aviators, thereby reducing probability of accidents.
